UNDER SOUTHERN SKIES

The Crystal Theatre offers its patrons a rare treat tomorrow evening in a five act film entitled "Under Southern Skies." Mary Fuller, the idol of the screen in Universal films plays the leading role. The play is a beautiful drama of love and romance and is replete with the charming atmosphere of the sunny south in the period of 1860. Manager Dingwall intends to present each and everyone present tomorrow night with a Christmas gift, although the nature of the gift has not been made known. Be there and receive yours. The price of admission will be 25c and 15 cents.

READ YOUR PAPER

To live as a member of the great white race of men, to share its thought and its aspiration, it is necessary that a man should read his newspaper," said U. S. Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, in an address to the students at the University of South Dakota. "The newspaper," he continued "has come to be indispensable. It goes and penetrates everywhere. It has been said of the newspapers that they are to the whole civilized world what the daily house talk is to the household; they keep our daily interest in each other; they save us from the evils of isolation. 'I like to go back to the splendid principle in which the fine structure rest. And that principle is the freedom of the press. Our forefathers must have had the gift of prophecy in regard to the press; they must have foreseen to what power and influence it would come. They had no dread of official acts or motives. They had faith in the ultimate triumph of truth. Jefferson was willing that error might be represented if truth could only be left free to combat it. He was opposed to a censorship of the press, and said that if he must choose between a government without newspapers and newspapers without a government he would prefer to risk the newspaper without the government. He believed that public opinion would measurably correct all things if public opinion were left free, but that government without a free expression of public opinion would soon become a despotism.'

METHODIST CHURCH

REV. E. D. LEWIS, Pastor.

"The Birth of Christ" will be the morning theme next Sunday at the Methodist Church by the pastor. The subject of the evening "The Supreme Gift." Of course no one will forget that this is Christmas. But what does it mean to us? The giving of gifts? Yes, but what kind of gifts? Some article of usefulness and beauty? That may be true and is very good. Is that all? What did the gift of God. His only begotten Son mean to the world? It meant peace, joy, righteousness. It was a time of rejoicing and making merry. Jesus came to make others happy. His words "Rejoice and be Exceedingly Glad" express the aim of his incarnation. If we, then, would celebrate the anniversary of the birth of our Lord in an appropriate way we must do something to make glad the heart of friend or neighbor. The gifts of love, of good will, of fellow feeling, are the greatest and most lasting gifts.

Come to the Methodist Church Sunday, both morning and evening and give Christ the worship that is due him. Sunday school at 9:45, Junior Church 2 and 3, League at 6:30.

On the last Sunday of the New Year we will begin a series of revival services. Let us begin the New Year with a renewed interest in the church and the work of the kingdom of our God. Begin now to make your plans to attend every service.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
